DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Koyama et al., U.S. Patent 6,306,786.

Koyama et al. teach a soda lime silica glass which is batched with Na_2SO_4 , Li_2SO_4 , MgSO_4 , CaSO_4 , SrSO_4 , and BaSO_4 . See column 3 lines 59-61. Koyama et al. also teach that Li_2O is added in the glass from 2-15 weight percent. See column 4, lines 29-37. The reference teaches that Fe_2O_3 , CoO , NiO , MnO , ZnO , Y_2O_3 , La_2O_3 , and CeO_2 are added to the glass for coloring. See column 5, lines 21-24.

Koyama et al. differs from the instant invention by not teaching examples sufficiently specific to anticipate the claim limitations of claims 1 and 10. Nor does the reference teach the use of the Li_2O or Li_2SO_4 additives for the suppression of the formation of nickel sulfide.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have batched a soda lime silica glass with Li_2O or Li_2SO_4 as suggested by Koyama et al. because the resultant batch would have the additive content of lithium sulfate or lithium oxide.

Art Unit: 1755

Since the glass composition of Koyama et al. is obvious over claims 1 and 10, one of ordinary skill in the art would expect the composition of Koyama et al. to exhibit the same nickel sulfide suppression properties as instantly claimed.

Response to Arguments

Applicants traverse the rejection over Koyama et al. on the grounds that the reference is not prior art in view of the submitted translated claims. Applicant cannot rely upon the foreign priority papers to overcome this rejection because a certified translation of said papers has not been made of record in accordance with 37 CFR 1.55. See MPEP § 201.15. Although, Applicant has submitted a non-certified English partial translations of the claims of JP 10-191,221, that alone does not perfect the right to foreign priority application.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 4 and 9 are allowed.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
